TRADE WITH UNCLE SAM

The Record of Hawaii's Commerce.

FIGURES NOT OBTAINABLE

San Francisco Merchants, Considering it Coastwise Business, Refuse Statistics.

Bradstreet's has the following regarding Hawaii in its September number:

"According to late advices the people of the United States are likely to be deprived of some much-desired information regarding the commerce of the United States with the Hawaiian Islands. The recent act of Congress, which extended to these islands practically all of the laws of the United States, is construed as rendering the commerce between the United States and the Islands 'coastwise' in its character. The laws with reference to the gathering of statistics of our commerce require importers and exporters to file with the collectors of customs at the ports at which their goods enter, or at which they leave the country, a specific statement of the quantity and value of each article imported or exported. The law does not require, however, this detailed information with reference to goods passing from one port of the United States to another port of the United States. Taking advantage of this condition, merchants of San Francisco who are engaged in trade with the Hawaiian Islands are, according to the chief of the Bureau of Statistics, refusing to furnish to the collector at that point, regarding goods sent to or from the Hawaiian Islands, the general class of information which they have for years been furnishing, but from which they claim they are now exempt under the new conditions. The effect of this will be to deprive the Bureau of Statistics and the people of the United States at present, at least, of all information regarding the commerce with the Hawaiian Islands. This is to be regretted, because these islands were places where the effect of annexation upon commerce with the territory annexed could be studied, since in the other territories brought into close relations with the United States conditions were not in our favor by reason of the war which had existed previous to or immediately following the new relationship. While the growth of our commerce with Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippine Islands has been considerable, it has been difficult to determine what proportion of the growth was due to war conditions and what proportion to the new relations thus established. In the case of the Hawaiian Islands, however, no war conditions existed, either previous or subsequent to annexation, and the growth of the commerce with the United States may be attributed chiefly, if not wholly, to the close relations brought about by annexation, and the general business revival which followed that event.

"The growth of our commerce with the Hawaiian Islands in the last few years, especially in the years 1899 and 1900, has been phenomenal. This growth is especially interesting in view of the new relationship which has been established with the Islands, and the marked increase which accompanied the final determination of that event. In 1899 the exports of the United States to the Hawaiian Islands were $4,711,417, and in 1897 were $4,690,975, showing no growth from 1899 to 1897. In 1899 the imports into the United States from the Hawaiian Islands were $4,711,417, and in 1897 were $3,687,799, showing but a slight growth.

"The treaty of annexation was signed at Washington June 16, 1897, so that all the commerce of the fiscal year 1898 felt the effect of that step in the process of annexation. In that year the exports of the United States to the Hawaiian Islands were $5,907,155, an increase of 27 per cent over 1897, when they amounted to $4,690,975. The treaty was ratified July 7, 1898, and sovereignty over the Islands was formally transferred to the United States on August 12, 1898, thus bringing practically all of the fiscal year 1899 within the period following the complete annexation. The exports to the Hawaiian Islands in the fiscal year 1899 amounted to $3,365,470, an increase of over 50 per cent. On the import side the year 1898 showed an increase of $3,500,000 over 1897, and the year 1900 showed another increase of $3,500,000 over 1898 and 1899.

"The following table shows the commerce between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands in the eleven years from 1890 to 1900:

IMPORTS INTO UNITED STATES FROM HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Year ending June 30—

1890 $12,312,908 1896 11,737,704

1891 13,895,597 1897 13,887,799

1892 8,075,832 1898 17,187,380

1893 9,146,967 1899 17,831,463

1894 10,065,517 1900 20,797,903

1895 7,988,961

EXPORTS FROM UNITED STATES TO HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Year ending June 30—

1890 $4,711,417 1896 $ 3,985,707

1891 5,107,212 1897 4,690,975

1892 3,871,628 1898 5,007,155

1893 2,827,663 1899 9,305,479

1894 3,306,187 1900 13,509,145

1895 3,723,057

"The above statement will terminate the record of our commerce with the Hawaiian Islands unless those engaged in that commerce reconsider their determination to refuse, under the existing law, to give the Bureau of Statistics the necessary information regarding their shipments to and from the Islands."

LANDMARKS GONE.

Comments by the Friend on the New Building Era.

The past month has witnessed the destruction of two residences in the business part of the city which have been for over fifty years conspicuous as social centers, says the Friend. One was the noted Paki house, built by the high chief Abner Paki on King street in the forties. It was for over thirty years the beautiful home of the distinguished Princess, Mrs. Bernice Pauahi Bishop. For some years past it has been occupied as the Arlington Hotel.

The other residence was immediately mauka, or inland, of the former, on Hotel street. It was erected perhaps later than the former one by the late R. W.

Wood, M.D., an early founder of Koloa plantation. Some thirty years since, it passed into the hands of John S. McGraw, M.D., who recently sold the spacious premises to Mr. Alexander Young for $125,000.

Mr. Young is about to build a grand hotel on part of both premises, extending from King to Hotel streets. Both houses have just been demolished and the splendid old shade trees are being destroyed. A new street is to be opened through, parallel with Fort street. It will be extended seaward to Queen street, and probably inland to Beretania. It will give great relief to the present congestion of Fort street. Very few edifices now remain in Honolulu which date back more than fifty years. Within two years four-story buildings of elegant architecture have arisen, and one of seven stories is fast approaching full height.

Dr. Gordon not Coming.

We are greatly disappointed to learn that the Rev. Dr. Gordon, who had engaged to labor under the Hawaiian Board for the Japanese in Hawaii, finds himself compelled by his health to reside in the colder climate of Japan, where he has done long missionary service. Dr. Gordon has for many months been greatly prostrated in consequence of a severe attack of Grippe during his year's furlough at the East.

It is possible that in consequence, Miss Eliza Talcott may be induced to postpone her intended return to Japan, and prolong for a while those labors here which she has so ably conducted during the absence of the Gulicks.—The Friend.
